A $40.00 Bicycle Given Away

Daily.

The publishers of the New York Star, the handsomely illustrated Sunday paper, are giving a $40.00 bicycle to the person who will send them the largest list of names made by using the letters contained in "THE NEW-YORK STAR."

no more than in any one word that it is found in the New York Star. The bicycle will be given away on Monday, June 26, 1899. Your list can reach us any day between these dates, and will receive the bicycle, which may be either a new one, or a used one, but it will be a good one. Call on or address Dept. "B," The New York Star, 240 W. 30th Street, New York City.

It is easy to find a big list of names. Just fill up a big bill of your friends and neighbors, and send it to the Compiler Office.

Our Sick Soldiers at Manila.

An unceasing Philippine dispatch by way of Hong Kong conveys the news that there are now nearly 3,000 Federal soldiers in the hospitals provided for the army, besides a considerable contingent ill in quarters at Manila. Large numbers of men now on duty are reported by regular surgeons as unfit for service, and many of these will doubtless soon swell the list of hospital patients. The troops are largely unaccustomed. The Luzon climate is enervating and debilitating in the extreme, and the arduous service demanded of the men in the spring campaign weakened their powers of resistance to malarial influences and the attacks of epidemic and zymotic diseases. Under such conditions it is scarcely surprising that the ravages in the ranks of General Otis' Philippine army should amount almost to an epidemic before the close of the rainy season.

The authorities at Washington should see to it that the useless, do-nothing policy of General Otis shall not be permitted to prevail in the matter of our sick soldiers in the Philippines, the Review remarks. The forty additional surgeons asked for by Chief Surgeon Woodhall at Manila should be sent at once, without regard to the approval or disapproval of the military officer in command. It will be necessary eventually, no doubt, to establish nearby hospital stations for our troops now in the islands similar to those already provided at Yokohama and other ports for the army of the country in the States. The forty additional surgeons asked for by Chief Surgeon Woodhall at Manila should be sent at once, without regard to the approval or disapproval of the military officer in command. It will be necessary eventually, no doubt, to establish nearby hospital stations for our troops now in the islands similar to those already provided at Yokohama and other ports for the army of the country in the States.

Hastings Wins in Court.

Centre county's hot political fight, says the Record of Sunday week, is at an end, and ex-Governor Hastings has won one of the most overwhelming victories ever scored in the history of the county in the State.

Judges, in his strenuous efforts failed to carry the county for Quay and in the interest of machine politics.

Had the conquest been waged purely on Quay and anti-Quay, or machine against reform issues, the result would have been closer, at least, and the victory might have been with the other side.

But the personality that was injected into the campaign eliminated all other issues, and when it became a question of endorsing ex-Governor Hastings or supporting the judiciary in politics, the Republicans of Centre county spoke vigorously at the polls.

Banks Cannot Stamp Checks.

Commissioner Wilson, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has recently issued a circular, absolutely prohibiting banks from affixing stamps to checks unaccepted when presented, and requiring them to return the same to the drawers. In his circular to collectors the Commissioner says:

You are directed to notify the banks that are guilty of stamping unaccepted checks that if the practice is not immediately discontinued they will be reported to the United States District Attorney for prosecution.

The instruction contained in Treasury Department No. 19,008, under date of June 29, 1898, to the effect that there was no objection to the use of stamps on checks, is hereby rescinded.

The practice of stamping checks is hereby prohibited, and the use of stamps on checks is hereby prohibited.

After a pause Crawford spoke.

SEA BALLAD.

I stood with my sailor, hand in hand,
When the waves were breaking
And the great ship groined against the strand,
Setting her sails for sea.

When our eyes in that last love look met,
And his hand was clasped in mine,
Then the great ship swept from the harbor's mouth,
And we were left alone.

With our sailors over the deep;
When our eyes in that last love look met,
And his hand was clasped in mine,
Then the great ship swept from the harbor's mouth,
And we were left alone.

When our eyes in that last love look met,
And his hand was clasped in mine,
Then the great ship swept from the harbor's mouth,
And we were left alone.

Her Mistake.

Novelists Should Keep Their Manuscripts From Their Lady Loves.

"I am so glad, Mr. Vandeleur, to see that you are better—so very glad."

Although Vandeleur's heart beat quickly, he was outwardly calm and cool as he replied nonchalantly:

"Thank you. Except for the fact of feeling rather weak now and then, I am comparatively well. I trust you are quite well, Miss Sinclair?"

"Yes, I am very well, thank you. But—my dear Mr. Crawford, tell me you had by no means recovered yet."

"Vandeleur, meekly and unhesitatingly Crawford said, with a bad imitation of a laugh:

"I shall be a good deal better, but you know, he occasionally constructs a mountain out of a molehill."

Pointing to the seat which Crawford had vacated a few minutes previously, he continued:

"Won't you please sit down, Miss Sinclair? I long to have a chat with an old friend."

His own desire now was to keep her, and an unattractive elation pervaded him as he halted with almost hysterical delight the prospect of showing this woman how utterly indifferent he was to her.

He hesitated a moment, then quietly said:

"But surely, Mr. Vandeleur," she said, "your word cannot be of so trivial a nature as you would have me believe."
